

Capital Transmission takes part in the transmission of Tech Building

Capital Transmission is proud to announce its participation in the acquisition of TECH BUILDING S.A. alongside Mr Jean-Christophe Delcloy, CEO and SOGELYM DIXENCE, as the majority shareholder.

Family owned business founded in 1997 in Geneva, TECH BUILDING S.A. is now one of the local leader in the installation of energy infrastructures and multi-technical maintenance.

Thus Capital Transmission participates in the transition among the shareholders of a Geneva based company, illustrating a long-lasting relationship with BCGE Group. Mr Delcloy's commitment in this transaction is a strong guarantee of sustainability for both the clients and the employees.

Founded in 1974, SOGELYM DIXENCE is a French group with activities in several fields of the building trades, from real estate development to facility management. With this first acquisition, the group is materializing its will to set up in Switzerland.

With this tenth acquisition Capital Transmission is taking part in a new chapter of TECH BUILDING's history.
